STATINTL

STATINTL

By now [redacted] will have informed you of our several conversations concerning the Director's visit to Richmond on next Tuesday, luncheon with General Anderson, etc. I am enclosing herewith a copy of my letter to General Anderson which I believe contains most of the essential data.

In view of our late arrival Mr. Dulles believes that it would be better to proceed to the Commonwealth Club and stop by your office later in the afternoon when he will not be so rushed. With regard to the transportation from the airport, I am not sure whether or not General Anderson really wants to meet us. I rather think, however, that he does and would suggest that if he shows any indication at all of desiring to do

I am pleased that I am at long last going to have the opportunity to visit [redacted] On Wednesday you should be in a position to say that it was necessary for Mr. Dulles to handoff George Carey and personally escort him to visit [redacted]

Look forward to seeing you on Tuesday.

Sincerely,

/s/

L. K. White
Deputy Director
